GOVERNOR MESSAGE

Khyber Pakhtunkhwa is home to one of the youngest populations in the country, and its young people represent our greatest asset for building a progressive, self reliant province. Their talent, resilience, and ambition continue to drive positive change across every field, from education and digital innovation to entrepreneurship and civic life. I remain committed to working alongside the Directorate of Youth Affairs to ensure that young people, in every district and from every background, have access to platforms that help them grow. Our focus is on expanding opportunities in digital and vocational skills, entrepreneurship, and civic participation, so that young people are equipped not just to compete, but to lead. We believe that investing in youth today is investing in the future stability and prosperity of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa. Together, through sustained policy support and meaningful engagement, we aim to build an environment where every young person can realise their potential and play an active role in shaping a stronger, more inclusive province.

The youth of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa are our greatest asset, our strongest hope and the driving force behind the province's future prosperity. Their energy, talent, resilience and determination hold immense potential to transform our society and to contribute meaningfully to sustainable economic growth, peace and development.

As Advisor on Sports & Youth Affairs, my vision is to ensure that every young person, irrespective of gender, geography or socioeconomic background, has equitable access to opportunities in education, skills development, entrepreneurship, innovation and meaningful participation in society.

The Government of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa is committed to empowering young people to become economically independent, socially responsible and active contributors to provincial development. Special attention will be given to youth in underserved and remote districts, including the merged areas, so that the benefits of development reach those who need them most. We are equally committed to promoting women's participation, strengthening public-private partnerships, and building stronger links between education, technical skills, financial inclusion and employment.

I firmly believe that our success must be measured not by the number of activities we organize, but by the opportunities we create, the livelihoods we support and the lives we transform.
